Wasted Planet!

Waste generated per day

2.5 Million Tons

About 100 Countries keep their mismanaged plastic waste to less than 25%

With the same rate, China can construct another great wall with plastic waste in 6 years!

TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO has the highest plastic waste generation per capita at

3.6 Kg / Day

US Produces the highest plastic waste, more than 128 countries combined but more than 99% of generated waste is properly managed

Inadequately Managed

30%

0.25M
Plastic Waste

70%

What is Storytelling ?

Data visualization expert Stephen Few said, “Numbers have an important story to tell. They rely on you to give them a clear and convincing voice”

Data storytelling is a structured approach for communicating data insights, and it involves a combination of three key elements: data, visuals, and narrative.

What is Storytelling ?

Data storytelling is about communicating your insights effectively, giving your data a voice

- Memorability- A study by Stanford professor Chip Heath found 63% could remember stories, but only 5% could remember a single statistic. People hear statistics, but they feel stories
- Most of the people in an organization cannot understand the outcome of analytics, however they do need proof of analysis and data.
- Data storytellers help an organization to figure out the various types of stories that can be told with data –reporting stories, explanatory stories, predictive stories, causation stories, correlation stories, etc.
- The main goal of big data analytics is to influence how someone takes an action or makes a decision. you cannot convince your stakeholders for a change unless they understand what insights you have gathered.
- It is boring and time consuming for stakeholders to look at all the quantitative analysis

1. Define Your Objectives and Know Your Audience
2. Identify a Compelling Narrative
3. Be Objective and Transparent
4. Choose the Right Data Visualization Method
5. Make Your Data Story Insightful
6. Create Synergies Between Data Storytelling and Content

Context

Narrative

Effective Visuals

1. Begin with Pen-Paper Approach

- Scripting down your ideas and flow before you start structuring your story is very essential

Aristotle's classic five-point plan that helps deliver strong impacts is:

- Deliver a story or statement that arouses the audience's interest.
- Pose a problem or question that has to be solved or answered.
- Offer a solution to the problem you raised.
- Describe specific benefits for adopting the course of action set forth in your solution.
- State a call to action.

2. Dig deeper to identify the Ultimate purpose of your story

- Identify closely, what the idea of your story is.
- Ask yourself, “What am I really giving with this story?”
- What you’re displaying is the idea of a better decision making.

3.Design a Road Map

- Create a list of all the key points you want your audience to know about your story, visual, or analysis.
- Categorize the list until you are left with only three major message points. This group of three will provide the verbal road map for your story.
- Under each of your three key messages, add supporting evidence to enhance the narrative. These could include some or all of the following: personal stories, facts, examples, analogies etc.

3.Design a Road Map

- Create a list of all the key points you want your audience to know about your story, visual, or analysis.

1. Textual Data

One of the best-suited visualizations for textual data is the WordCloud. The wordcloud brings the more frequent ones to the center and enlarges them, giving us a clear picture of what the general idea of the text depicts.
